pounds, 15 ounces, were taken in a special ambulance to the Premature Center at St. John's hospital, Springfield, at the suggestion of Dr. Carl J. Hauptmann, who delivered the triplets. All are putting on weight and are normal, healthy babies. Jeffrey Carl was brought home a little over a week ago and Michael Leo got to come home Thursday of this week. The babies look alike but mother and father don't have a bit of trouble in telling them apart. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Enters New Phase of Life

Mrs. Lois Locke Retires After 29 Years Teaching at Junior High

By Mary Louise Streich
Register Staff Writer

June is a time for commencement and once again Mrs. W. C. Locke is closing a school experience and entering into a new phase of living. Her "graduation" is from her twenty-nine years of teaching at the Junior high school in Harrisburg and her "commencement" is into that life, aspired to and dreamed of by all of us, retirement.

Mrs. Locke might well qualify for nomination to either teacher of the year, or mother of the year. During the twenty-nine years of her teaching, she has raised and educated her three children, Virginia, Bill and Marguerite. She has seen each of them graduated from the University of Illinois, the university from which she and her husband, the late Walter C. Locke, were graduated, from the graduating classes of which her daughters selected their husbands and now, this very week end, Mrs. Locke has gone to Chicago to see her granddaughter, a graduate of the University of Illinois, yes, you've guessed, married to another graduate of that great university.

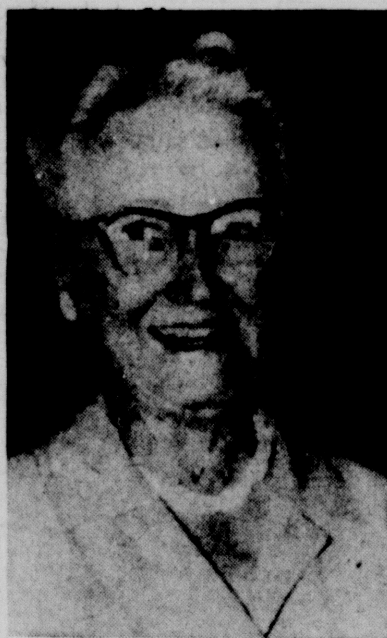

Virginia Locke Smith of Chicago and Kenneth Smith are the parents of this granddaughter, Carolyn Smith who was married to John Hartman of Chicago, a graduate of the school of commerce, U. of I. Virginia Locke Smith is a graduate of the home economics department of the university and her husband, Kenneth Smith, is a graduate of the school of architecture.

William "Bill" Locke, after graduating from the school of commerce earned his law degree from the University of Virginia, and it was in those years that he met and was married to a charming English girl.

Marguerite, now Mrs. Charles Brunnett, was also a home economics major and her husband Charles Brunnett was graduated from the school of metallurgy.

Carolyn Smith is the first of the Locke grandchildren to be married and there are eight more, so who can say how far this university story might go. Perhaps the big commencement for Mrs. Locke in this June, 1957, is grandmother to a maturing generation.

This is primarily a story of a teacher, but the mothers of this world are the first and finest teachers of any child, and Mrs. Locke's story cannot be written without the mother-teacher theme predominating.

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg city schools, says of Mrs. Locke, "Although her years entitle her to retirement, age is not a matter of years, but of mental outlook and a state of mind. Mrs. Locke has a youthful frame of mind and so her appearance is of youth and enthusiasm."

Mrs. Locke retired at the end of the school year, June 3, and was honored in a ceremony on Friday, May 31, at which time she and Cyrus Steinsult were granted their retirement and given the customary government bond, in appreciation for their services to the schools of Harrisburg.

There is a law before the Illinois legislature, allowing a teacher in retirement to teach for sixty days without endangering the teacher's pension. It is Mr. Malan's hope that this will be passed and that these fine teachers will not be entirely lost to the profession.

In the meantime Mrs. Locke's plans are to stay at home and enjoy her leisure, friends and home-making.

Ike Defends His Program in Address to GOP

Says Legislation, Budget Requests Backed by Platform

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Eisenhower Republicans" hoped today that President Eisenhower's political call to arms would spark greater unity among GOP congressmen in support of his budget and legislative program.

The President made a vigorous defense of his program in a speech at the windup Friday of a two-day national Republican conference to plan for the 1958 congressional campaign.

He said his budget and legislative program merely translated into concrete programs the GOP platform pledges unanimously adopted at the national convention last year. He said he would use "every power" at his command to write them into law.

Eisenhower called the platform "a solemn commitment" and said he would use every power at his disposal to see that it was honored. He warned Republicans to bury "personal preferences" and support his program if they want to win next year's congressional elections.

Republican defeat in the coming elections, Eisenhower said, would put the country "back on the New Deal-Fair Deal toboggan of loose spending, centralization, punishment of business and fiscal irresponsibility."

The GOP must not let differences over "tactics" lead to "the supreme suicidal folly of forfeiting victory for vital principles," he told his audience of about 2,000.

"We've got a good team. Let's look like one," he said to a loud burst of applause. He was applauded a number of times during his speech.

Stratton Signs Bill to Limit Work Week of Firemen; Vetoes 2 Others

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton, Friday signed in to law a bill limiting the work week of firemen to 56 hours and vetoed a pair of bills dealing with arrest and eavesdropping.

The 56 hour week bill, which was vetoed by Stratton in 1955, cleared the Legislature last week. Sponsors of the measure said firemen in some areas were required to work as much as a 72 hours a week.

Sponsors said the half cent city sales tax authorized by the 1955 Legislature would provide enough revenue to hire the extra firemen needed to implement the new program. The bill applied to municipalities of 12,000 or more population and will take effect Jan. 1, 1958.

Stratton vetoed a bill which would have required arrested persons to be taken "forthwith" before a magistrate for filing of charges. The present law states such person will be taken before a magistrate "without unnecessary delay."

Law enforcement officials protested the "forthwith" provision saying it would hamper their investigations. Stratton's veto message said the bill would "make law enforcement more difficult."

Stratton also vetoed a bill which would have made it illegal to eavesdrop on confidential conversations between an attorney and his client while in custody. The veto was based on an attorney general's opinion which said the bill created a new crime without so stating in its title.

Stratton also signed into law an appropriation of $27,500 for rehabilitation of the Pierre Menard mansion in Randolph County near Kaskaskia. Menard was the first lieutenant governor of Illinois.

GI Follows Advice of His Brother, Louis

Carroll Considered Soldier's Chief Defense Counsel

By United Press

The attorneys for American soldier William S. Girard appeared to be in complete disagreement today on the firing of a Japanese lawyer chosen to defend him in a Japanese court on manslaughter charges.

Girard was reported to have fired his Japanese lawyer, Itsuro Hayashi, on the advice of the soldier's brother, Louis, of Ottawa, Ill.

Louis telephoned Girard in Tokyo twice Friday and instructed the 21-year-old soldier to fire both Hayashi and his Army legal adviser, Maj. Stanley F. Levin.

Levin confirmed from Tokyo today that Girard had fired Hayashi but denied that he too had been sacked.

"I still Girard's personal adviser," Levin said, "and until I hear differently, that's the way it is."

Hayashi claimed that he still was Girard's chief counsel.

Louis Girard said in Ottawa that Earl J. Carroll "can now be considered Girard's chief defense counsel."

However, Dayton Harrington, another of Girard's lawyers in the United States, underlined the disagreement among the American attorneys on defense strategy.

Harrington said in Washington that he thought that Hayashi was a "highly competent attorney" and should be retained.

Will Petition Eisenhower

Carroll, a New York and California lawyer, in an attempt to get the case out of Japanese courts already has won a Federal Court order forbidding the government from surrendering Girard to the Japanese.

Carroll wants the soldier returned to the United States to face a military court-martial.

Both Carroll and Harrington will represent Girard in Federal Court in Washington next Tuesday when Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarragh ordered the government to show cause why Girard should not be returned to the United States.

In other developments in the case:

Rep. James A. Haley (D-Fla.) introduced a resolution Friday calling for the administration to reverse its decision to turn Girard over to the Japanese courts.

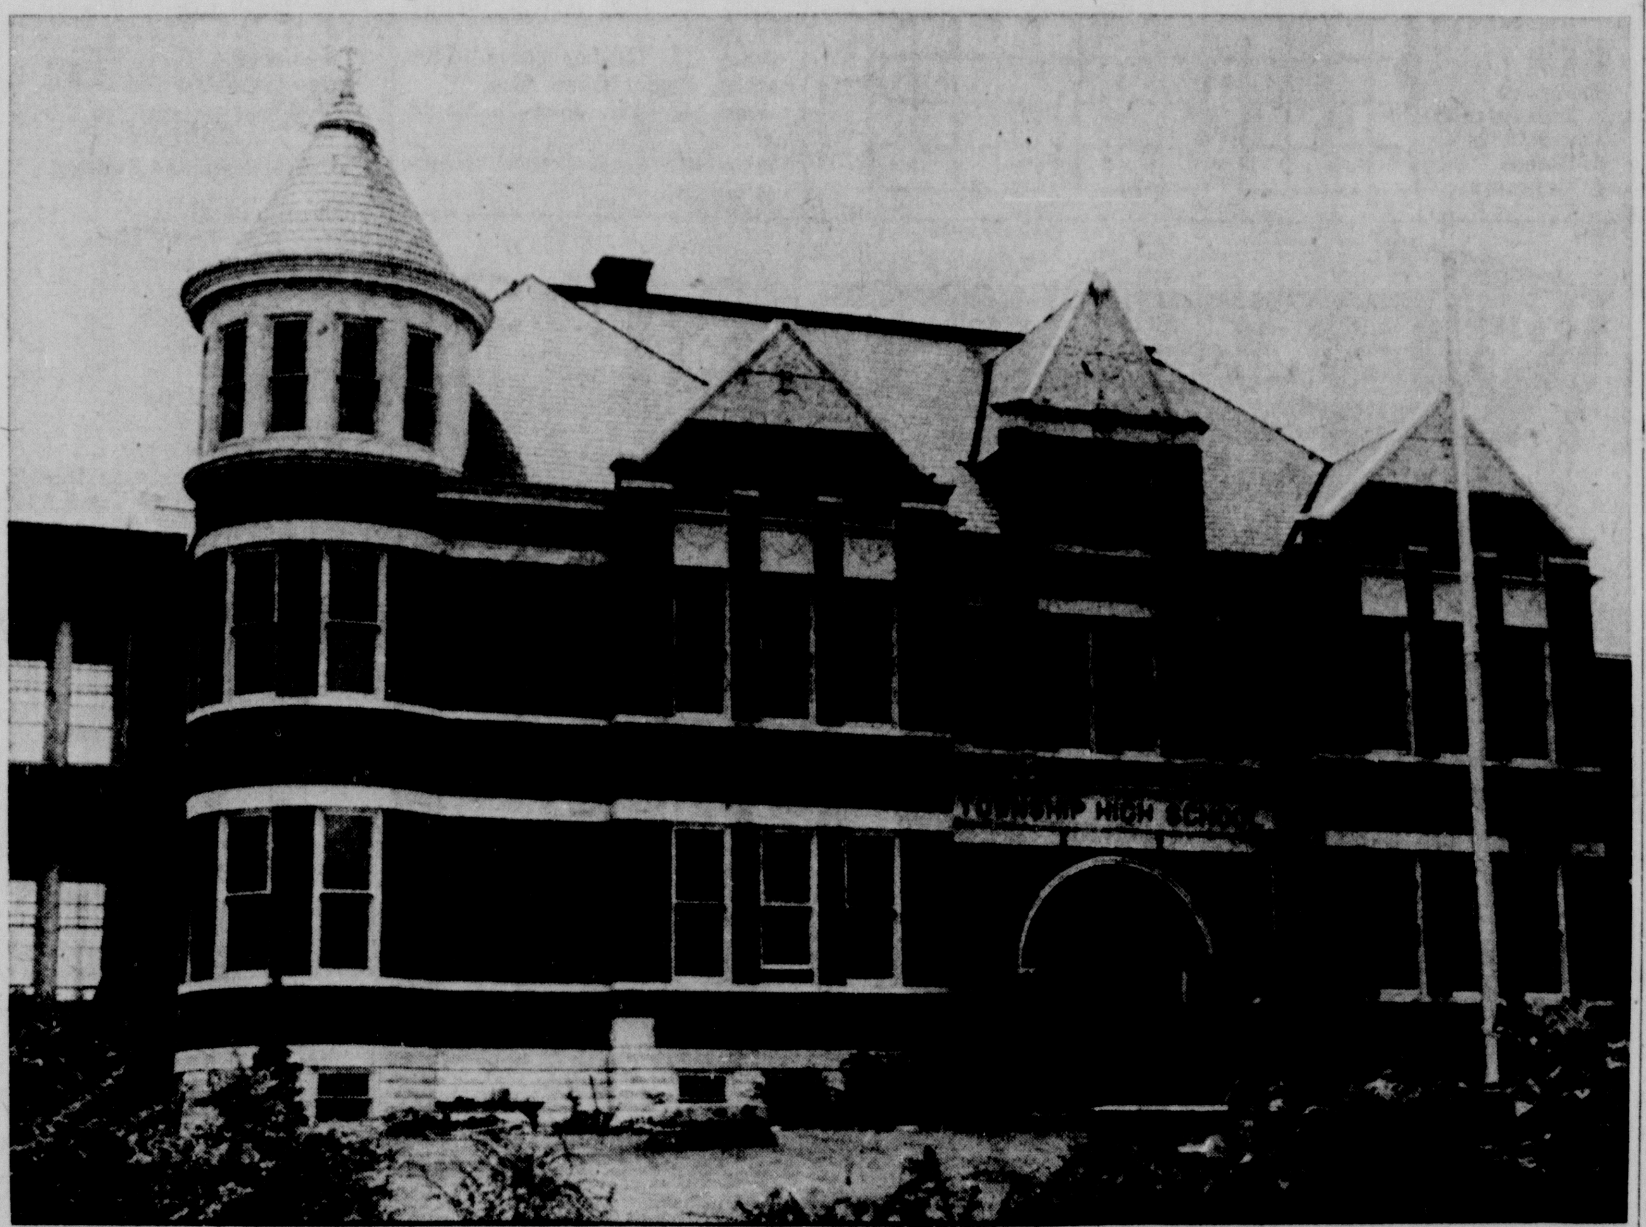

Girard's brother, along with other prominent citizens from Ottawa, will go to Washington Sunday to present President Eisenhower with petitions bearing 7,000 signatures requesting that Girard be returned to the United States.

Evidence Shows Post Office Building Hit by Automobile

Somewhere in the Harrisburg area this morning there is an automobile with a badly damaged front end, according to evidence on the east side of the Harrisburg post office building.

Shattered headlight glass and chipped concrete indicate a vehicle slammed into the east side of the postal building with great force. The vehicle hit the building with sufficient force to leave circular imprints in the concrete, apparently where the bumpers hit the building, and glass from the headlights fell through grill work on the ground level to the basement window sills. Also there are two shades of red paint on the walls and the imprints of tires on the driveway, said to have been made by U. S. Royal tires.

Postmaster A. M. Hetherington announced today that anyone with information regarding the collision should get in touch with him at the post office or with the police.

THE TAYLOR BUILDING, oldest of the four structures on the Harrisburg Township high school campus, is getting a face-lifting these days. The Hurschal Spillman Co. of St. Louis had just about completed its work Friday of tuckpointing the building, steam-cleaning the brick and sandblasting the stone. The Stain

Tin Shop will rework the metal including the cornices and guttering and Bill Sandage has the contract to paint the outside wood and metal. Dee Barrett will do plaster work in Pemberton Hall, to the west of Taylor Hall, and the interior will be redecorated by Sandage. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Grain Sorghums and Forage Silage May Be Good Substitute for Row Crops

Tom Morgan, local Work Unit Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, stated that Soil Conservation District Cooperators
who wish to substitute forage silage or grain sorghums for row crops in their soil conservation plans may do so with good economical results. He stated that a few farmers who produce livestock had recently asked him questions regarding the value of grain sorghums as a feed. A number of trials on the University of Illinois experimental fields the past three years show that sorghums can be used as a substitute for feed grains or for silage.

The grain sorghums are not generally recommended for silage, but as a feed grain they may have a place in the farm plan. Grain sor-ghums can withstand hot, dry weather better than corn and the new hybrid varieties are yielding about 20 per cent more grain than the open-pollinated varieties. As a feed grain for sheep and calves the grain sorghums have about 87 per cent of the feeding value of corn and for beef cattle can be substituted pound for pound.

For dairy cattle a high yielding forage variety is advised. Sor-ghums, when used for silage, should not be over 30 per cent in moisture for good quality silage.
Sorghums will usually reach the silage stage in from 90 to 110 days.

The normal planting rate in rows is 3.5 pounds per acre for grain sorghums and 5.8 pounds for forage types. Seed may be treated with a fungicide, such as Ceresan, Arasan, or Panogen, 15 or 42, before planting. Sorghums may be planted from June 15 to July 1
and harvested in October for silage, or late October for early November for grain. Conservationist Morgan also mentioned that the grain sorghums when left unharvested make excellent food and cover patches for wildlife. He stated that a number of farms in the District have fence corners, open areas in brush or scrub woods, and other odd areas where a grain sorghum seeding would winter a covey of quail.

Ten-Cow Dairy Herds Fade Away in Illinois

Ten-cow dairy herds are on the way out in Illinois, says E. E.
Orniston of the Dairy Science Department at the University of Illinois. This trend is due to changes in marketing and increased mechanization.

Increasing demand for fluid milk and the decreasing demand for farm cream are eliminating the small herds scattered throughout the state that depend on the sale of cream for a market.

Higher quality standards for fluid milk are being enforced too.
After January 1957, only Grade A milk will be marketed for fluid consumption in Illinois.

Technological changes have helped to increase cow numbers per farm. Use of bulk tanks, pipeline milkers, automatic barn cleaners and other labor-saving machinery has decreased the number of man-hours per cow, but increased the overhead investment.

As a result of these changes, the dairy herds are disappearing on farms where they are a sideline.
Dairying is rapidly becoming a commercial business in which higher production per cow and greater returns per hour of labor are emphasized.

Rumen bacteria normally will produce all of the vitamins that mature dairy cows need except vitamins A, D and E.

tion plots at Southern Illinois University during Agronomy Field Day tours Tuesday afternoon are:

turned after 36 years on the University of Illinois Agronomy Department staff and will operate a farm

Drop In Milk Cow Numbers Hasn't Cut Production

URBANA—Although the number of milk cows on farms declined one percent during 1956,
milk production has not dropped,
L. H. Simerl, University of Illinois agricultural economist, points out. In fact, one percent more milk was produced during January this year than in January 1956.

Illinois dairymen had two percent fewer cows on hand January 1, 1957, than on that date in 1956.
But milk production for January this year was up 2.2 percent over the same month last year.

The fact that dairymen have been able to produce more milk with fewer cows means that farmers have evidently done a good job of culling the low producers and keeping the higher producers.

To consumers who may be concerned about getting an adequate supply of milk at reasonable prices, Simerl says not to be concerned about the decrease in cow population. As long as more milk can be produced with fewer cows, both farmers and consumers will benefit.

Farm Accidents Killed 14,000 in 1950-55 Period

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department said today 14,000 farm persons were killed by accidents each year from 1950 through 1955.

Farm work accidents killed an average of 3,900 farm persons each year for the period, the department said, citing National Safety Council figures.

Farm work mishaps injured an other 321,600 each year. Accidents in farm homes took 3,300 lives and injured 548,300 each year. Motor vehicle accidents killed 6,000 farm persons and hurt an additional 210,000. Off-farm accidents not involving motor vehicles killed 1,600 members of farm families and injured 140,000 each year from 1950-55.

The department said many of the accidents were "caused by unsafe practices and hazardous conditions that could be corrected."

Ten Rules On Swimming

"June is bustin' out all over"—
this is the time for vacation fun, 4-H camping and swimming. A few good reminders for all persons going swimming this summer are:

1. Never swim in an unguarded area.
2. Never swim alone; it is more fun to swim with others.
3. Do not swim immediately after eating.
4. Be alert; watch out for others, particularly smaller children.
5. Do not swim during thunderstorms.
6. Do not swim when exceedingly hot or tired.
7. Before diving, be sure you know the area you are diving into.
8. Do not swim in areas when motorboats are used. Watch out for all type of boats.
9. Do not be reckless; know your own limitations.
10. Obey all rules and regulations, and pay attention to the life-guards. They are there to help you have a good time. Don't be a wise one!

Two Girls Tie for First in National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON, AP — National Spelling Bee winners Dana Bennett and Sandra Owens planned today to use their prize money for further education and teeth straightening.

Dana, 13, from Denver, Colo., and Sandra, 14, from Navarre, Ohio, tied for top honors Friday in the toughest spelling finals since the contests began in 1925.

The end came after judges had used up their official 630-word list and 11 words on a special supplementary list.

Both girls tripped up on the word "schappe," which means a silk scarf, and contest officials decided to declare it a draw. It was the second time the bee, sponsored by the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, ended in a tie.

Dual winners in 1950 were Diana Reynard of Cleveland and Colquitt Dean of Atlanta.

Five Killed in Highway Crash

CLARKS GROVE, Minn. (AP) — Five persons were killed and another injured Friday night when a speeding car went out of control on a wide curve near here and swerved head-on into another auto with "a crash that sounded like an explosion."

The accident—the worst in Minnesota this year—occurred on U. S. 65, two miles north of here. The victims were: Waldo R. Schultz, 41, Minneapolis, Minn.; Marilyn Ann Torgeson, 22, Mason City, Iowa; her grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Larson, Forest City, Iowa; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berard, both 58, Des Moines, Iowa.

Kenneth Chapman, 39, Des Moines, Iowa, was taken to nearby Albert Lea Hospital in fair condition.

Mrs. Walter Carlson had slowed down to make a turn into her driveway when a car raced past her at a "terrific rate of speed." She said the car went out of control, into the wrong lane of traffic, and hurtled into the Berard machine.

The Schultz car was traveling "about 100 miles an hour," a witness told Freeborn County Sheriff Carl C. Lindahl.

Leeper Rites at Eldorado Sunday

The funeral of Mrs. Ida Leeper, 79, formerly of Eldorado, who died in E. St. Louis, Friday, will be held in the Eldorado First Baptist church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Rev. H. C. Crolsen of E. St. Louis will officiate, assisted by Rev. Eddie Hatfield. Burial will be in the Cottage Grove cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Eldorado funeral home until the funeral.

Survivors are her daughter Mrs. James Laxton of E. St. Louis, in whose home she had been living, and her sons Luther Leeper of Garberville, California and Charles Leeper of Chillicothe.

Golconda Girl Named SIU Dairy Princess

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Dairy cows are not strangers to Joyce Randolph, attractive 20-year-old farm girl from Golconda who has been picked by her Southern Illinois University Home Economics Club classmates as their Illinois Dairy Princess candidate.

Miss Randolph grew up on a general farm that includes dairying as one of its enterprises. She is the youngest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Randolph's ten children. Since her six sisters and three brothers have grown up and are making their own way in the world, Joyce's parents are cutting down on their farming operations, but they still keep five dairy animals for cream production, and grow corn, pasture, and hay crops for feed, but the Randolphs are renting out some of their farm land.

At SIU, Joyce is a junior, who has been active in Home Economics Club projects, and is part-time student worker in the University's Purchasing Office.

Her nomination coincides with the dairy industry's observance of June Dairy Month to encourage greater consumption of milk and other dairy products.

New Probe in Hodge Scandal To Open Monday

CHICAGO, AP — A new investigation into the Orville Hodge embezzlement case by a Cook County grand jury will open Monday.

Hodge's former lawyer, J. Roy Browning, is reported to be the new object of interest to investigators.

State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski said Friday is Browning was Hodge's attorney when the siphoning of state funds was going on and if he knew of some of the undercover activity he "should have called a halt."

Adamowski said these were the main points under investigation. He said it was possible Browning was "tied directly" to the case which rocked the Illinois political boat last summer.

Hodge is in prison for embezzling some 2,500,000 from the state treasury. His office manager, Edward A. Epping, and the manager of a Chicago bank where phony state checks were cashed, Edward A. Hintz, are also behind bars for their part in the treasury raid.

"If Browning, Hintz and Epping had held up their hands," Adamowski said, "Hodge never would have been involved in such a mess."

Adamowski said he gained new information for the jury last week in a series of conferences with Hodge, at Menard State Prison.

Adamowski revealed he questioned Hodge about the chartering of savings and loan associations to C. Oran Mensik, Chicago. The present auditor, Elbert C. Smith, closed three of Mensik's organizations after bank runs developed.

This afternoon Jerry Holden will lead a discussion "Why We Worship On Sunday" rather than Saturday and this evening there will be four "buzz sessions" on the subjects "Youth and Social Problems," "Youth's Place In The Church," "What Must I Do To Be Saved," "Choosing Your Life's Work," and there was a period of worship listed for 10:30 p. m.

Sunday's schedule includes a morning worship at 7:45, Bible school at 9:30 and church services at 10:30.

"Brothers Reconciled"

Genesis 32:24-30; 33:1-4

GILDED TEXT: "As Christ forgave you, so also do ye." (Colossians 3:13).

INTRODUCTION—How terrible it must be to be at odds with one's own brother. It is bad to have ill feelings toward any person, but for members of one family to be at enmity one with another, must be really bad.

When we left Jacob and Esau last week, Jacob had run away from home after his brother threatened to kill him. Jacob had stolen Esau's birthright and blessing. By trickery, and with the help of their mother, they had taken that which belonged to Esau.

Now, twenty years later, we find quite a different scene. Jacob has come face to face with God. He has had an experience with God that changes his whole life and attitude. His name is even changed from Jacob, "the supplanter," to Israel, "the prince with God."

Anytime a person has an experience with God and really becomes a Christian, they will no longer hold grudges toward another. Anytime you find someone who has hatred in his heart toward any other human being, you may know that person is not a Christian. He may be regular in church attendance, or he may even be a leader in some church, but he (or she) is not a Christian!

Jacob had many experiences during the years since he had left home. Some had been good, and some bad. He decided to return to his native land. On the way he heard that Esau, with 400 men, was headed his way.

Whether from fear of Esau, or genuine trust in God, we do not know; but Jacob turned aside to pray. There appeared one unto him who engaged him in combat. All night long he wrestled, but he would not let go. God touched Jacob's thigh and caused him to become lame. Broken, now, Jacob was ready for God's blessing.

How long since you wrestled with God? How about that problem you have? Why not stop wrestling with the problem and take it to God? Wrestle with Him, and He will touch your life so as to give you the power to whip your problem!

II. JACOB—A CHANGED MAN (32:26-30)

Jacob knew that he had come face to face with God. He was determined to stay until the issue was settled. He refused to let go until the blessing came. God never refuses such earnest persistence.

Friend, if you know in your own heart that you are lost, you know enough to be saved. You may intend to settle this matter before you die, but never forget that hell is full of people who had good intentions. They never intended to wait too long. Neither do you.

Jacob became a changed man. So can you! He had been a crooked swindler, but he became a man whom God could trust.

(I was holding a service in a county jail recently. A few of my men had accompanied me on this mission. One man, whom I had recently won to Christ, thrilled my heart as he testified to those prisoners as to what God had done for him. He is a changed man!)

III. JACOB FORGIVEN BY ESAU (33:1-4)

During those twenty years of separation, Jacob probably never ceased fearing the day he would have to face Esau. Now, he sees Esau coming with four hundred men. Jacob has prepared a valuable gift to offer Esau. It is a gift of restitution. It does not represent all that he had taken falsely twenty-four years before, but it is the best he can do at the time.

Whenever a person becomes a Christian, that is the time of making restitution. If you have wronged another human being, it is then time to do your best to make restitution.

Jacob was both surprised and happy when Esau came and embraced him. All was forgiven. God works on both ends of the line at the same time. If you go in God's name to ask forgiveness of another, God will prepare the heart of the other party for your reception.

CONCLUSION—Harmony and order are both of God. There should be harmony and peace between you and every other living person. First of all, you must make your peace with God. Then you will have peace with your fellowman. You will be happier, enjoy life more and be blessed abundantly, if you follow His leadership. Why not begin right now by going to God in prayer?

Today's athlete wants to win fairly according to the rules. Primitive man had no rules, no sense of fair play.

In the intervening centuries man learned more of God. He began to apply basic religious principles of honesty and integrity to all the activities of life. Finally, he decided that even his games ought to be played by such standards.

Sometimes we say that sports build character. We really mean that fair play—the religious principle we have tried to incorporate in our games—turns mere competitive effort into a character-molding experience.

But life is more than a game . . . and Christian character is more than sportsmanship.

The Church teaches all of us the principles of moral and spiritual living. It brings us into a reverent relationship with God himself. Its truths not only inspire fair play . . . but victorious living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Phillies Move Within Half Game of First Place with 1-0 Victory Over the Cubs

By United Press
The snarled-up National League race was tighter than a new pair of shoes today, with both the Dodgers and Phillies threatening to step over the floundering, first-place Redlegs unless they hurry up and get a move on.

Rookie pitcher Jack Sanford is the fellow who may help the Phillies horn in on the lead. He hurled them to within a half-game of first place Friday night when he struck out 13 batters in beating the Chicago Cubs, 1-0, for his seventh victory.

Not to be outdone, Roger (Skinny) Craig also led Brooklyn to within a half-game of the top with a three-hit 6-3 triumph over Cincinnati. Craig, who pitched his first complete game in 18 starts, gave the Dodgers their fourth straight victory while handing the Redlegs their fourth loss in the last five games.

The Milwaukee Braves also contributed to the general bottleneck in the league standings by climbing to within two games of first place with a 5-0 victory over Pittsburgh, while the St. Louis Cardinals moved within 4 1/2 games of the top with an 11-inning 5-3 triumph over the New York Giants. Chisox Retain Margin

In the American League, Baltimore beat Chicago, 3-2, in 11 innings but the White Sox retained their five-game lead when Detroit defeated the second-place New York Yankees, 6-3. Washington licked Cleveland, 11-7, and Kansas City topped Boston, 6-3. Sanford's 13 strikeouts gave him the National League lead in that department with a total of 60. He yielded only three hits in extending his scoreless string to 18 innings. The Phils scored the only run of the game off Dave Hillman in the fourth.

Homers by Rube Walker and Don Zimmer helped Craig to his victory over the Redlegs. One of the three hits given up by Craig was a ninth-inning homer by Ed Bailey. Johnny Klippstein suffered the loss.

Southpaw Warren Spahn of the Braves scattered seven Pirate hits in nailing down his sixth victory over Bob Purkey. Bill Bruton paced Milwaukee's nine-hit offensive with a single, double and triple.

Del Ennis' two-run homer in the 11th off Curt Barclay broke a tie that had existed between the Cards and Giants since the sixth inning. Larry Jackson gained credit for his seventh victory. Hank Sauer hit his 10th homer for the Giants.

Score Will Be Unable to Pitch Until August
CLEVELAND — It'll be at least August before southpaw Herb Score pitches for the Cleveland Indians again.

That was the word the Tribe received from Score's doctors Friday. They said the 24-year-old left hander, now recuperating from an injury to his right eye at his uncle's Hagerstown, Md., home, would not be able to resume workouts for "four or five weeks."

Score, who is scheduled to come here for further examinations late next week, probably would require at least 10 days or two weeks to work himself back into shape following his first workouts, so the doctors concluded he would not be able to pitch again before August.

Score suffered the eye injury when hit by a line drive off Gil McDougald's bat in a game with the Yankees, May 7.

VFW vs. Evansville Here Tonight; McLeansboro Sunday

Tonight the Harrisburg VFW baseball team is playing the Evansville Union team on VFW field and tomorrow they will play the strong McLeansboro Pirates here in an Oil Belt League game.

McLeansboro has some fine young players and played the locals several one run games last season. Krecher and Sandusky, two promising young pitchers, will probably do the pitching for the visitors with Hall doing the receiving.

Bill McNew will hurl for Harrisburg with Romonosky catching.

Proviso Wins State Baseball Title

MAYWOOD, Ill. — The Illinois high school baseball kings returned here today, bringing the third championship in 13 years to this Chicago suburb.

Proviso of Maywood scored 12 runs in the first two innings Friday to whip Mount Carmel, 12-1, and win the title at Peoria.

Proviso won in 1944 and 1953.

The win surprised nearly everyone, for Mount Carmel had conquered mighty Lane Tech of Chicago, 5-3, earlier in the day. Tech was tournament favorite and undefeated in previous play.

Proviso finished its season with an 18-5 record, the poorest of the top four teams. Mount Carmel was 14-3, Waukegan 14-2, and Lane Tech 19-1.

Jackie Robinson Receives Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree

Robinson, who won fame in a Brooklyn Dodger uniform, donned a cap and gown to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Howard University.

Fullmer Wins Decision Over 'Tiger' Jones

CHICAGO — Ex-middleweight champion Gene Fullmer was back on the comeback trail today with a victory over Tiger Jones.

"Sure, Jones had me in a corner almost all through last night's fight," Fullmer said. "But that's the way I had it figured. I wanted him to corner me. He just fell right into place."

Jones' manager, Bob Melnik, said he was "disgusted" with the decision.

Jones, 29, from Yonkers, N. Y., said he kept yelling at Fullmer to "come on and fight."

"How are you going to fight a guy who's running?" Jones asked. "If Fullmer had run backwards any faster I never would have caught him."

Fullmer, 25, didn't go into the matter, but merely said he "changed styles to meet Jones."
